

Dome Exterior Complete

Just in time for the monsoon rains, the exterior of the main dome structure at the five acre site is complete. The rains will actually assist in the curing and hardening process of the mud based plaster finish.

Registering for College

Aruna and Mehndi glance at a copy of the college admissions paperwork for the school of science and math. Aruna will be the first AVANI student to continue with her education past the 10th grade. She is determined to become a doctor.